

Distinguished Women

Stephanie D. Curtis was honored with an award from Distinguished Women, a program that assists the next generation of women leaders attending Northwood University through mentorship, leadership and scholarship. As an honoree, being named a Distinguished Woman means that Ms. Curtis is an example of determination, compassion, has ethical business practices and demonstrates an excellent example for Northwood female students who aspire to be tomorrow's entrepreneurs, executives and philanthropists.

